

Part II - Oral presentation

Instruction:

Select one of the following topics and prepare an oral presentation in advance. You will present it to your class during the last lesson.

Try to make use of words you have learned. You may ask your teacher for extra words but please introduce these new words to your classmates before you make your presentation so that they can understand your presentation. (you may distribute a word list or write on the board)

You may refer to your note occasionally but you are not to read from it. Start the presentation by introducing yourself.

Be prepared to answer questions by fellow classmates and your teacher during or after your presentation.

Topics:

1. Give an introduction one of your friends, your wife/husband or your girlfriend/boyfriend. You must use this structure “是……的” at least twice in the text.
2. Suppose you are going to study in a new Chinese program in the future, how do you explain your Chinese studying experience to your new teacher? You must use this structure “是……的” and “Verb + 得+ result” at least once in the text.
3. Tell about the Netherlands / a Dutch city / your hometown. You must include its location using “离”、“A 在 B……”。
4. How do you introduce Western food or how to eat Western food to a Chinese who comes to Netherlands for the first time? You must include “用” and “verb + 得+ adjective” .
